 December 2004

On the border between California and Oregon on the Western coast of the United States the Cascade mountain range creeps slowly from north to south. Before it disappears into the Sacramento Valley, its most magnificent and highest peak, Mt. Shasta, formed by four volcanic eruptions, reaches upwards.

Mt. Shasta lies apart from the other mountains. She stands elegantly on her own like a solitary goddess. The southern (main) peak of Mt. Shasta reaches an altitude of 14,162 ft. (4,317m). The northern peak, Mt. Shastina, stands at 11,755 ft. (3,583 m) tall. Both peaks remain snow-capped all year round. Seven glaciers slide slowly downward and the glacial ice-water eventually melts into Lake Shasta and the Sacramento River. For several hundred thousand years, the majestic Mt. Shasta has radiated her certain charm. From a distance she guards the vast Pacific Ocean to the west and the expansive North American continent in the east. Soon after an explorer was fortuitously granted access to a unique dimension of the mountain over 70 years ago, she quickly attracted the attention of the masses. Her unusual stature and powerful energy have since brought numerous groups from all over the world for both scientific research and spiritual cultivation.

Ten years ago when Grand Master Le-Tian first came to the United States he heard of a holy mountain in Northern California called Mt. Shasta. For unbeknownst reasons, he began calling it xian si ta. Today I finally understood that the change of name in translation relates to the profound workings of the Universe because the words vividly invoke a sense of yearning and the Chinese word interplay composes a poem which can be loosely translated as: Shasta Shasta I long deeply for a glimpse of thee, so my soul draws to you often dreamily. During these ten years, Grand Master has set foot many times in this amazing region that arouses this feeling of yearning in his search for the old homestead that has long since disappeared.

Tian Gong's origin lies in the heart of the Universe. It has experienced the disasters that have befallen successive eras of Earth civilizations. It therefore shoulders the important mission of researching and studying the rise and fall of Earth civilizations.

In October 2004, after giving transmissions and wisdom-enhancing teachings in Europe for three months, Grand Master Le-Tian returned to California with Master Tian-Ping. They completed their Mt. Shasta journey in two days on October 20 and 21.

A few days before they set out for the trip, I compiled some relevant background information from the web and discovered that the legend of Mt. Shasta was truly amazing. Both scientific researchers and people with paranormal abilities had written books formulating the hypothesis that Mt. Shasta was one of the rigid points of the Earth's energy field (a rigid point is where powerful energy gathers). Legend has it that the survivors of pre-historic Earth civilizations live in an underground city beneath the mountain itself. Above the mountain peak, large patches of UFO-like clouds often gather. Many photographers have captured these cloud formations on camera. Upon looking at the photographs of the UFO-shaped cloud formations, Grand Master Le-Tian and Master Tian-Ping immediately recognized them as UFOs in a non-manifest state. Most of them were UFOs from Saturn, a few were from Venus and other planets.

At approximately nine o'clock on the morning of the 20th, Grand Master Le-Tian, Master Tian-Ping and the administrative staff left California's capital, Sacramento, driving northbound on Highway 5 for approximately two hours, first passing through the broad Sacramento Valley, eventually reaching Redding, the last large city in Northern California, and finally entering the Cascade mountain range. When the snow-capped peak of Mt. Shasta appeared in our sights, Grand Master Le-Tian began speaking Celestial Language to connect and communicate with the Universal High-Wisdom Beings of Mt. Shasta. The Universal High-Wisdom Beings told Tian Gong: the purpose of this journey is to study the history of Earth civilizations; there are numerous treasures inside the mountain waiting to be unearthed by Tian Gong and Grand Master Le-Tian.

It was already noontime when we reached the foot of Mt. Shasta. We took lodging in the tiny town called City of Mt. Shasta. The town is very small with a population of only a few thousand people. It has only one main thoroughfare that is a five-minute car ride from end to end. Mt. Shasta's spiritual Qi gives nourishment to this region. The mountains are pure and the waters are refined. This superior energy field breeds people of outstanding quality. Cultural awareness is strong in this tiny town. There are five or six bookstores on the short main street. The store personnel are very attentive, friendly and civil. The counters are covered with various flyers advertising Mt. Shasta research and cultivation events -- tell-tale signs of the difference between the residents of this area versus the vast majority of the population. Here they focus on spiritual cultivation. On display on the bookshelves are works by local authors describing the legends of the mountain plus other books about pre-historic civilizations. These works are limited editions, do not have a wide-circulation and are generally hard-to-find elsewhere. In addition to books we also bought large photographic prints of UFO-like cloud formations at the mountain peak. Grand Master Le-Tian said that the works have research value and that we would house the books and hang the photos at Tian Gong headquarters USA to enhance everyone's research and appreciation.

Looking at Mt. Shasta from the town we see only snow-capped peaks in the distance, which glisten with a silvery light beneath the blue sky. The mountaintop is surrounded by ever-shifting cloud and fog formations as it extends upward, making it look even more out of this world. We make the ascent in our cars. The closer one gets to Mt. Shasta, the more one feels her extraordinary and divine qualities. Driving along the winding road we are already in a sea of trees and an endless field of snow by the time we reach an altitude of 7,000 ft. at the middle of the mountain. After we get out of the car we walk along treading snow. Master Tian-Ping feels that the energy field of Mt. Shasta is excessively powerful and extremely pure. She says, "This is the land of immortals and not in the secular realm of existence." In the middle of this energy field one's heart feels only peace and bliss. Mt. Shasta is a treasured area of optimal feng shui dreamed of by Tian Gong practitioners. Grand Master says, "If a future opportunity arises we will establish a second Tian Gong cultivation base here."

On the western side of Mt. Shasta there is a small isolated mountain called Black Butte. Grand Master calls it hei ta shan or black tower mountain. Rising out of the ground at an almost vertical slope and with a pitch black color, it looks like a black pyramid from a distance. It has been a loyal guard of Mt. Shasta. For several hundred thousand years it has attended to its duties. When Master Tian-Ping used her third-eye to investigate, she saw a vast space within Black Butte containing various instruments and equipment. It is a communications center of the Universal High-Wisdom Beings. From this location communication can be established with all other communication centers on Earth, for example, in Bermuda and the Himalayas, and also with other galaxies in the Universe.

Forty miles southbound on Highway 5 from Mt. Shasta is Lake Shasta, the source of the Sacramento River. This is another central focus of the research. At the request of Universal High-Wisdom Beings we arrived at Lake Shasta on our way home at noon on the 21st. After driving around a little in search of the location we eventually found the designated place, Shasta Dam. The area around the dam is quite secluded with no one in sight. The surrounding environment is very scenic, almost like a park. Standing by the side of the lake and looking northward, Mt. Shasta glistens with a silvery light between the blue sky and the green water. As they did previously, Grand Master Le-Tian and Master Tian-Ping began speaking Celestial Language. At the same moment, Master Tian-Ping saw with her third-eye a gigantic UFO floating on the surface of the lake. There is a huge cavern at the bottom of the lake with a lid covering the entrance. What is concealed inside the cavern is awaiting Grand Master and Tian Gong to excavate at a later time. The Universal High-Wisdom Beings want Grand Master to visit Mt. Shasta next autumn. At that time they will have important messages to reveal to Tian Gong.

Recognized as one of the seven holy mountains of the world, Mt. Shasta has always been regarded as heaven in the hearts of spiritual cultivators. Every year during summer and autumn, people flock from all over the world taking lodging in the mountain or in the foothills to discuss and practice spiritual cultivation. Among those are people in search of evidence from past civilizations and looking to receive divine guidance; there are also those who are only here to heal chronic illnesses. Mt. Shasta has not disappointed these seekers over the years, silently unfolding her miracles. Numerous spiritual cultivators claim that they have engaged in dialogues with the Universal High-Wisdom Beings who reside within the mountain; many people, after living on the mountain for several days, experience a sudden and unexplainable disappearance of their illness(es). The local residents have witnessed a glow of celebration at the mountaintop. They have heard the harmonious sound of ringing bells. (According to legend, a bell is an effective tool used by Universal High-Wisdom Beings to blaze trails through the mountain. The vibrating motion of the bell is able to change the molecular structure of the atoms thus allowing gigantic tunnels to be forged through solid rock.) People who are lost are guided by mysterious animals and life forms to find their way out. There are even people who have seen giants with large feet. These are but occasional glimpses of Mt. Shasta's shining beauty that are allowed to us by a mountain who is usually shrouded in a mysterious cloak.

Mt. Shasta is a gigantic sanctuary. After investigation by Grand Master and Master Tian-Ping, a magnificent golden architectural structure was discovered below the ground. In it resided Universal High-Wisdom Beings from other planets within the Milky Way galaxy. Grand Master calls them 6th-dimensional High Beings. Their commander is a 7th-dimensional High-Wisdom Being from outside the Milky Way galaxy. Over the last several million years, they have witnessed and participated in many birth, growth, peak, decline and destruction cycles of Earth civilizations. Universal High-Wisdom Beings told Grand Master: The history of civilizations on Earth is a history of blood and tears. Understanding the workings of Mt. Shasta enables one to understand 50% of the history of change on the Earth.

Following the guidance of the Universal High-Wisdom Beings, we traced Earth civilizations back 300,000 years. During that era, located in what is now the Pacific Ocean, were two gigantic land masses called Lemuria and the continent of Mu. Between 150,000 and 300,000 years ago Lemuria gradually disintegrated and sank, thereby separating the African continent from the Indian sub-continent, which gave birth to the Indian Ocean. Survivors from Lemuria gradually escaped to the Mu continent. As time passed the Lemurian civilization went through a renaissance on the Mu continent and quickly became an advanced society once again. Along with the development of the civilization, unending wars ensued between the sovereign states that had established themselves on the continent. This is similar to the current Earth situation except that Mu technology was even more advanced than what we have today. 50,000-150,000 years ago various disasters and wars between the humans caused conflicts between humans and the High-Wisdom Beings. Wars between the humans and High-Wisdom Beings caused the entire Mu continent to crumble and sink into the Pacific Ocean, leaving only the American, Australian and Asian continents. It is noteworthy that the mystery of the Easter Island stone statues has been under investigation for many years but remains unsolved. The solution to the mystery was revealed by the High-Wisdom Beings: they were erected later on by the survivors of the Mu continent. These stone statues face the ocean in either standing or kneeling poses in order to invoke deep longing for the Mu continent, repentance for the past and hopes for the future.

On the evening of Oct. 19, 2004 one of the leaders of the Mt. Shasta underground headquarters visited the home of Grand Master Le-Tian. He was a High-Wisdom Being of the 6th dimension, over 3 meters tall and from another solar system in the Milky Way Galaxy. This High-Wisdom Being indicated to Grand Master that the entire Tian Gong staff traveling to Mt. Shasta had profound karmic connections with the mountain. After arriving at Mt. Shasta, large amounts of information indicated that the souls of Grand Master and the assistants who had come along had all been very active on Lemuria and the Mu continent tens of thousands of years ago and had been witnesses to and participants in the rise and fall of the Lemurian and Mu continent civilizations.

When it was time to part temporarily and say goodbye to this holy mountain Shasta with which we have had unseverable and deep emotional ties for tens of thousands of years, we could not help but ponder with so many mixed emotions: why do civilizations rise and fall again and again in repeating cycles? Is this the inevitable destination typical of all civilizations or is this a man-made disaster? In our interest to seek immortality would we also be able to immortalize a civilization and make it last for an eternity indestructible and untarnished? Today six billion people on Earth walk with hurried footsteps single-mindedly seeking ever higher levels of material wealth. Is humanity already in the process of recreating a wasteland underneath a vast ocean? From the perspective of a Tian Gong practitioner, what does cultivation really mean? How do we proceed along a true cultivation path... Questions upon questions like thunder and lightning...

More than a month later I received an answer.

A Celestial Vision and Celestial Hearing workshop was held in the early part of December at Tian Gong headquarters USA located in Union City, California. Grand Master told the students that he is continuously seeking his root and origin, seeking his own source of life, seeking the source of eons of reincarnations of his soul upon the Earth and seeking out the true reason for the rise and fall of eras of civilizations. The seeking of our roots is a type of cultivation and is in fact an extremely effective high-level cultivation method. As we discover the traces of life that we left during our several hundred thousand or millions or even several hundred millions of years of our history on Earth we realize that, as traveling guests passing through invited by the Earth host to live here, we have not been coming hurriedly and disappearing in a flash but have been trapped in the reincarnation cycle, experiencing repeated cycles of disasters and suffering. Right now we are humans but we have also been High Beings, animals and plants on the Earth. We have been of white, black and yellow races and we have been sages, criminals, wise-men, ignorant men, males, females, high-level officials, aristocrats and lowly peddlers with the cycle of life and death repeating over and over. When we understand it all then we come to the realization that we must rise above life and death, above the self, above racial barriers, above religion, above the boundaries of nations, above the stratification of life forms and even above and beyond planetary boundaries in order to directly reach the highest level of Tian Gong's cultivation to achieve unity and oneness with the Universe.

This is it after all! No wonder Grand Master has been journeying all over the world. He has set foot upon nearly thirty countries and mysterious regions throughout the world, sometimes even braving risks and dangers like climbing the Himalayan Mountains where he was on the verge of life and death twice. He has now arrived at a new landmark location for seeking roots -- the amazing Mt. Shasta -- seeking and discovering the hidden commonalities between the rise and fall of eras of civilizations, seeking the ultimate path for actualization and transcendence of life.

The path of cultivation is long and arduous with my destination lying far in the distance. I will search for it high and low, as part of my karmic journey, through every dimension of our existence.

DIVINE PROCLAMATION BY THE HIGH BEINGS OF THE HOLY MT. SHASTA
TIAN GONG MEMBERS RECEIVE THE MISSION OF THE UNIVERSE

On October 25, 2005, Tian Gong founder, Grand Master Le-Tian and Tian Gong Master Tian-Ping returned to Holy Mt. Shasta in Northern California U.S.A. with 12 Tian Gong practitioners for a three-day practice and cultivation.

At 4:30 pm in the afternoon of the 25th, members of the Tian Gong group spread out along the sandy shore of Lake Siskiyou, which is to the south of the mountain, in order to receive divine messages from the Universe.

The commanding High-Wisdom Being of Mt. Shasta originates from a galaxy beyond the Milky Way and exists in the 7th dimension. The holy mountain itself connects directly to the ocean floor of the Pacific Ocean and has a very strong connection with the continent of Mu upon which a glorious civilization once flourished and sunk between 50,000 and 300,000 years ago in this same ocean.

Both Grand Master Le-Tian and Master Tian-Ping chose a spot along the sandy shore of the lake and their hearts filled with respect and awe as they sat facing Mt. Shasta. Rawk, the messenger sent to act as a liaison between the commanding High-Wisdom Being of Mt. Shasta and the Tian Gong group, was already standing atop the mountain to welcome everyone. Rawk, an Eagle-High-Wisdom Being with an eagle's head and a human body, is over 4 meters tall and has a pure white body and a gigantic pair of wings. He is from the Orion constellation in the Milky Way Galaxy and the 6th dimension of existence. Rawk was the same guide that led Grand Master to Mt. Shasta for the first time in October 2004.

After greeting Grand Master Rawk quickly disappeared into the mountain. Shortly thereafter, the main gates of the mountain opened. Eight High-Wisdom Beings of Mt. Shasta proceeded out in a dignified manner and formation to stand in two lines of four on either side of the gate. A very deep, powerful and charismatic voice radiated out from inside the gate and said, "Welcome. Take this message home with you."

"Thank you!" said Grand Master, returning the greeting by bringing his hands together, full of humility and respect.

Grand Master then helped Master Tian-Ping to strengthen her third eye and invoked Ling Ji Bodhisattva to strengthen her Heart Stabilization to help facilitate her communication with the High-Wisdom Beings. A picture appeared in Master Tian-Ping's third eye:

[Picture]

Many places within the Earth have been hollowed out and it looks like collapse is imminent. Many High-Wisdom Beings are engaged in emergency rescue and repair work and are also working to support the Earth.

At this moment she received a telepathic communication.

[Telepathic Communication]

"To date, this type of work has been carried out exclusively by High-Wisdom Beings from outer space. We hope that the people of Earth will now bear their share of the responsibility in carrying out this rescue work."

Master Tian-Ping then saw two Chinese characters in her third eye:

[Chinese characters]

Extinction by destruction

[Telepathic Communication]

"If Earth exists, humanity exists; if Earth is destroyed, humanity will perish."

[Picture]

There are frequent earthquakes; large tsunami waves topple mountains and overturn oceans.

[Telepathic Communication]

"Let the non-awakened ones go first because the Earth no longer needs them. The more of these people there are, the more the Earth will suffer and the less hope she will have. If they continue to exist one more day it will extend Earth's crisis for one more day, causing the Earth to moan in agony and suffer for one more day. These people are enemies of the Earth. They peel off the Earth's skin, cut up her flesh and still lack gratitude. They do not realize that the Earth can feel pain, can bleed and can one day experience the exhaustion of her life force. They do not cherish her. All they know is how to plunder. Their greed is insatiable. They assume that the Earth will exist eternally to offer them endless looting opportunities. They cannot hear the Earth moaning in agony. They cannot hear her cries."

"Some humans are even worse. They pretend to be deaf and mute and ignore what they see. Even though they know the Earth is on the verge of death they continue to be bystanders, acting as co-conspirators. They are the enemies of humanity. They are the enemies of the Earth. Humanity needs to be rid of these people. The Earth also does not give permission for their continued existence."

"During an earthquake, the Earth also suffers to the point that she will shiver and shudder with pain. Tsunamis are the Earth's wails and screams of pain. People only hear the wails and screams of the unfortunate ones and thus only sympathize with the human victims but not with the Earth. Very few people truly see Earth as their mother. Very few people give heartfelt gratitude to the Earth for their upbringing and for the fostering of their growth. What they say and do are complete opposites. They admire the beauty of the Earth and are awed by the power and dignity of nature while simultaneously harming and plundering the Earth.”

“The Earth does not belong to humanity. The Earth belongs to the Universe! The Universe does not allow humanity to continue the destruction of the Earth in this way. The Universe does not allow humanity to abuse and waste the beautiful Earth-child. The mother of Earth is the Great Universe. The suffering mother is now filing a grievance on behalf of her child. The kind Universal mother is now reaching out with her compassionate hands to save her Earth-child by soothing and repairing her wounds. You must know that during this action, the Universal great hand will have no alternative but to sweep many people into a black hole, an unbearable sight to the Universal mother.”

[Picture]

A large hand appeared at the wounded area of the Earth. In a single gentle motion, the hand intended to smooth out and heal the wound; in the consecutive motion of the big hand, people gathered near the wound were knocked down and subsequently disappeared.

[Picture & Telepathic Communication]

“The larger the wound, the higher the human death toll. The deeper the wound, the higher the human death toll. Master Tian-Ping then heard the voice of a High-Wisdom Being:

[Voice]

“The Universal mother can afford to wait no longer. The Earth can afford to wait no longer. Continuing to wait will cause the Universe to lose this Earth-child. The Earth-child is only an adolescent. She cannot be allowed to die young. The Earth must continue to live.

[Chinese Characters]

Dying Young

[Picture]

Waves of people flood the Earth's wound. As soon as the hand of the Universe smoothes out the wound and the people in the area are knocked down a new wave of people swarms in. Waves upon waves of people swarm in continuously. The humans are densely packed like a swarm of ants. With excessive bravery the ones in the front push forward. They are eagerly followed by crowds of new people.

[Telepathic Communication]

“People of Earth do not understand the meaning of fear, natural disasters or man-made disasters. They do not learn from their lessons. They do not think deeply about the cause and effect of each occurrence. They are excessively cruel. Their hearts are icy-cold, icy-cold.”

[Picture and Telepathic Communication]

“Their eyes are fixated only on what is directly in front of them. They are unable to hear the sounds of the Universe. They do not want to hear. They cover their ears while shouting obstinately, ‘I know everything!’ They do not want to listen. They do not want to see. They cover their ears and their eyes.”

Master Tian-Ping's heart then received a very strong telepathic communication:

[Telepathic Communication]

The Universal mother says, “These people are not qualified to continue their existence on Earth; death is their destiny, their only destiny.”

“Earth is on her last breath. Every time the Universe performs an operation it harms the Earth and it also harms the humans. But without the operations, the Earth would be without hope.”

“For you, the Awakened Ones, how will you help the Earth? With what resources will you assist the Earth? You need to make a loud and clear urgent call to action and let more people hear this message: The Earth is about to die. Drop the butcher knife you have raised in your hands! Make a loud and clear urgent call to action and protect the Earth like you protect your own hearts. When you have heart problems are you comfortable? When the Earth experiences problems, how do you feel? Have you felt the Earth as you have felt your own hearts? Do you regard the Earth as you regard your own eyes? Do you regard the Earth as part of your life? Do you really love the Earth? Who genuinely loves the Earth? Ask your fellow humans, ‘Who has never harmed, plundered, abused or wasted the Earth?!’”

“You human beings repay great benevolence with heinous crimes and even stare death in the eye without remorse or insight! This is really terrifying! Are you not aware that the Earth draws the same breath as you and that you both live and die together? Do you really think the Earth is eternally powerful and everlasting? Stupid people of Earth! What have you “Earth-lovers” really done to serve the Earth? Even though you have obviously seen the Earth wailing and heard her moans and sighs, what have you actually done?”

“We come from far away planets. The love in our hearts is the love of the Universe. Our purpose in being here is to help the Earth overcome her crisis and to help release the Earth from the grip of those humans who have a bestial-nature. We will help the Earth become a planet like ours; a beautiful planet, a planet devoid of suffering, a smiling planet just like our own Mother planets.”

“You people of Earth are of such an inferior grade; too stupid and ignorant, too cruel and overly aggressive. The cruelty and aggression is a result of the stupidity and ignorance. You do not understand the workings of the Universe and you are unaware of the Supreme and Sublime. You only know how to crash around in your own society and believe that this is all

[Picture]

Many people on Earth are bumping and crashing around aimlessly in the hustle and bustle of their daily lives.

"You have come here today so be sure to remember our words: help the Earth overcome her crisis! Remember these words for all of eternity: If there is no Earth, there is no you! With the Earth gone, you will also become criminals! Remember these words. Remember this message. Remember! Earth does not belong to you humans, Earth is part of the Macro-Universe!"

"All planets are the siblings of the Earth. You humans are only the invited guests of the Earth and not the hosts. Do not act as such. Have heartfelt gratitude towards your host! Always remember that you are merely guests. It is the Earth, our compassionate sister, who has given you shelter and care. Remember this forever. You humans have a responsibility to help the Earth overcome her crisis thus helping humankind to overcome its crisis."

"Remember, do everything you can to fulfill your duties to the Earth at last. You are capable of doing so. Even though it is too late you must still make a concerted effort! From now on, wherever disasters happen in the future, feel not only anguish for your fellow human victims but also shoulder the responsibility for the Earth's suffering. You need to feel the Earth's moaning voice, her painful shuddering and her suffering."

[Picture]

At this moment, the front gate of Mt. Shasta closed slowly and then re-opened. A High-Wisdom Being who was over 3 meters tall emerged wearing pure white clothing holding a very large plate in his two hands. In the middle of the plate were individual white paper scrolls, which were bound with pink ribbons tied into bows.

[Voice of High-Wisdom Being]

"These gifts are for you. The gifts are your personalized missions!"

He extended his arms and pushed the plate forward so that the scrolls would fall towards us. The scrolls flew down. Grand Master bowed and said, "Thank you High-Wisdom Being for your kindness."

[Voice of High-Wisdom Being again]

"Earth's crisis can no longer be resolved by humans alone. The situation is as follows: the Earth can only be saved through a concerted effort between two forces with High-Wisdom Beings and the people of Earth joining together."

[Picture]

Both on the surface and in the depths of the Earth, many High-Wisdom Beings are at work. There is a very large kind eye in the Universe constantly watching over the Earth and humanity and watching over those High-Wisdom Beings who are working on the Earth.

[Telepathic Communication]

"The humans must participate in this work, otherwise no one will remain."

[Chinese Characters]

No one will remain.

[Telepathic Communication]

"Only the participants have a hope of survival. This is also the wish of the Earth. The Earth is very compassionate, she doesn't wish for the entire human race to disappear on her behalf."

[Picture]

The Earth deity's gigantic body is seen lying on the Earth. Her eyes, which are filled with compassion and concern for the well-being of humanity, observe the swarm of people advancing towards her. She is torn and undecided because defending herself will cause them harm or death.

[Picture]

Many High-Wisdom Beings are at work. They are working very hard and some of the work is very dangerous. Toxic gases are fuming from the lava in the volcanic craters. While they work, they wear gas masks.

[Telepathic Communication]

"If humanity does not participate, it is possible that no one will remain. For the Awakened Ones, participation in the rescue work is a way to save themselves."

[Telepathic Communication]

"Hold the Earth in your hearts. Cherish the Earth with your hearts! Look often at how haggard the Earth is in her illness. Listen to the agonizing moans of her pain. Constantly remind yourselves: the Earth is in crisis and we have a responsibility. Do not slack off. Do not forget. You people of Earth forget too easily."

"Ordinarily the enthusiasm of the humans only lasts five minutes. When they hear the agonized moaning, their hearts may be moved momentarily but then they become numb and calloused again. Do not you know? Without the Earth, where would you humans be? Without humanity, where would you, the individual, be?"

"Some people say, 'I have God in my heart.' Yes, you do have God in your hearts, but you just do not have the Earth in your hearts. Some say, 'I am very respectful of the Gods, I am very respectful of the Divine Universe.' But you are just not respectful of the planet Earth! Are you not aware that the planet Earth is also a deity? You dare to abuse and waste a deity in this way?! You even dare to neglect to reciprocate acts of great benevolence?! You continuously claim that you honor God but in actuality you belittle the Earth deity and treat her as your slave to kill and mutilate however you please. You wretched humans, so insignificant and yet you have such an inflated sense of self-importance. Even though you obviously have experienced the power of the Earth and nature, you forget the pain as soon as the scab heals."

[Picture]

Temples and churches fill the celestial field of vision.

[Telepathic Communication]

"Of the innumerable temples and churches, which ones were built to honor the Earth deity? Is it because the Earth deity does not provide you with benefits? Is it because the Earth deity does not provide you with enough kindness? Stupid humans, right in front of you and most intimately connected to you is the Earth deity! Committing negative acts against High-Wisdom Beings results in punishment. Do you think you are immune to punishment after harming the Earth deity? Do you think that you can escape unpunished after harming the planet Earth?"

[Picture]

Many spacecraft, some with human passengers and some without, are continually taking off and leaving the Earth for other planets.

[Telepathic Communication]

"You have continuously sent out spacecraft to explore other planets. Why do you not research the planet on which you live?"

[Picture]

The Earth is orbiting in the Universe, an Earth sagging under a heavy burden.

Her movement is slowing down...

[Telepathic Communication]

"Why do you not think deeply about how long this planet, which carries you, can continue on like this? When faced with the suffering of the Earth, why are you not able to feel the intense heartache that is a result of your own mistakes and actions? Why do you not repent for your sins?"

"Send your love and compassion to the Earth! Offer your genuine, heartfelt and selfless love and compassion to the Earth! Genuine, pure, selfless and boundless compassion can heal her wound. Do not be afraid. The undertakings of a pure heart are always supported by the Divine Universe. Be brave, make your urgent voice heard loud and clear! Spread our message far and wide!"

[Picture]

Sound waves from the High-Wisdom Beings radiate out and enter into the center of many people's hearts.

[Voice cont'd]

"See how many people can be Awakened? See how many remain sound asleep? Continue your work. Move forward with bravery. Move forward with bravery! You are not alone, a force of righteousness is backing you. The strength of the Universe is limitless and inexhaustible. The High-Wisdom Beings are backing you!"

"Wishing you success ahead."

[Picture]

The High-Wisdom Beings faded out of sight.

Grand Master Le-Tian and Master Tian -Ping continued to face Mt. Shasta reverently as they brought their palms together and bowed. Then they stood for a long time on the sandy shore of Lake Siskiyou...
